

Amy Green

Director, Account Management

Amy is an accomplished executive with over 20 years in sales and account management, inclusive of 15 years in the healthcare field serving and advocating for her customers. She has an exceptional track record as an individual performer, trainer, leader and coach of teams. She has a proven history of exceeding operational and financial goals, and using her experience working with and for national suppliers, GPOs, and providers to drive value for her customers.

In her current role at TPC as the Director of Account Management, Amy uses her relationship building skills and business acumen to support Member goals and optimize Member value. At TPC, Amy focuses on opportunities to reduce complexity, increase Member support, drive tangible value and improve overall Member experience.

Amy received her bachelor's degree in business at Baylor University with an emphasis in marketing and management. To give back to her community, Amy has held multiple board positions with a variety of organizations.