

Cody Waldrop Vice President, Revenue Cycle

Cody Waldrop is a proven healthcare executive with over 22 years of healthcare and revenue cycle experience. He has deep industry knowledge focused across all areas of the revenue cycle. Cody has served in leadership roles managing high performance teams focused on data driven, results oriented, continuous improvement.

Cody is currently the Vice President of Revenue Cycle for TPC with executive responsibility over the Revenue Cycle service line, supporting TPC's Member organizational interests by way strategic performance improvement initiatives. Cody works directly with the revenue cycle leaders at each Member hospital to identify viable collaborative opportunities that provide increased value to the membership as a whole. As such, he facilitates the Revenue Cycle Council that meets monthly to drive TPC revenue cycle programs.

Cody is a graduate of Texas Tech University with a bachelor's degree in business management and an MBA in health organizational management. He is certified in Project Management, Epic Resolute Hospital Billing, and trained in Lean Six Sigma from Villanova University.